The kitchen unit consists of light green, handleless cabinets. On the left, there is a tall cabinet housing a built-in oven with a digital display showing '2021'. To the right of the oven is a sink with a black faucet, and further right is a cooktop with two pots. Above the countertop, there are upper cabinets and open shelving. The open shelving on the left holds a white mug and a bottle. The open shelving on the right holds a bowl, two glasses, and another bowl. A black lamp is mounted on the wall to the right of the kitchen unit. The countertop is white and features a sink, a cooktop with two pots, and various kitchen items like a cutting board and a cloth. The backsplash is a light, textured material. The floor is covered with a patterned rug.

A living area with a dark, textured wall and a large window. A small table with a white top and dark base holds various decorative items. A potted plant is visible in the foreground.
